

COPPER WOLF ACQUISITION COMPLETION

IGO Limited (ASX: IGO) (“IGO”) is pleased to advise that it has completed its acquisition of the Copper Wolf Project in Arizona, USA, from Buxton Resources Limited (Buxton).

As previously announced on 30 March 2026, the transaction sees IGO acquire the remaining 49% joint venture interest in Copper Wolf for cash consideration of approximately A$6.15 million.

Copper Wolf sits within one of the world’s most prolific porphyry copper belts, and earlier mapping and drilling have confirmed porphyry-style mineralisation and alteration across much of the project area. IGO’s attention is now on a targeted drilling program scheduled for 1H27, with the results to guide next steps.

Ivan Vella, IGO Managing Director and Chief Executive Officer commented, “Bringing Copper Wolf into full ownership is a logical and disciplined move, consistent with IGO’s strategy to discover, develop and deliver battery minerals, including copper. The project gives IGO direct exposure to an area of highly prospective geological potential within the globally significant Arizona copper belt, and I look forward to the team progressing the next phase of drilling activity on site.”
